

HOW TO GIVE Life Insurance

Life insurance provides a simple way for you to give a significant gift to Four County Community Foundation with tax benefits that you can enjoy during your lifetime.

HOW IT WORKS

- You make the community foundation the owner and irrevocable beneficiary of your life insurance policy—you can either give a paid-up policy or continue to pay premiums.
- You receive a tax deduction for the approximate cost or fair market value, whichever is less. If the policy is paid up, you may receive an immediate tax deduction. If it is not, you can claim to continue tax deductions on premium payments you make directly or through gifts to the community foundation.
- Upon your death, we set up a special fund in your name, in the name of your family or in honor of any person or organization you choose.
- Our professional program staff considers your charitable wishes and determines the community needs that would be most impacted by grants from your gift.
- Our board issues grants in the name of the fund you establish (if you prefer, your awards can be made anonymously).
- We handle all the administrative details.
- Your gift can be placed into an endowment that is invested over time. Earnings from your fund are used to make grants addressing community needs. Your gift—and all future earnings from your gift—is a permanent source of community capital, helping to do good work forever.

A GIFT THAT PAYS

When his two daughters were young, Zachary Ding bought a life insurance policy to provide for his family in the event of his death. Now, he's 65, and things have changed. "My daughters are both grown and doing very well for themselves, and over the years, my wife and I have become fairly comfortable—she will no longer need the death benefit from my policy," Zachary said. The Dings support and volunteer for a youth mentoring program as well as their local museum. "We've always planned to leave something for important community organizations when we pass," Zachary said. After talking with their financial planner, Zachary decided to give his life insurance policy to his local community foundation. "After giving my policy, I received a significant tax deduction," Zachary said. "We had owned the policy for so long that we could choose to stop paying the premiums and maintain a sizable death benefit." The Ding Fund will be established with the proceeds from the insurance policy to benefit youth development and other community organizations.

HOW TO GIVE LIFE INSURANCE

MORE BENEFITS

Giving life insurance through the community foundation is one of the simplest ways to make a significant contribution to your community and establish your legacy of giving. You can make a gift when life insurance is no longer needed for personal financial wealth replacement. You may receive a number of tax benefits, including reduced income taxes and estate taxes. And, if you choose to continue paying premiums through the community foundation, you will be entitled to a charitable contribution deduction of up to 50% of your adjusted gross income.

You can replace the dollar value of an asset transferred to the community foundation with a life insurance policy. Or you can use regular payments from a charitable gift annuity or charitable remainder trust to establish an irrevocable life insurance trust. The trust can purchase insurance on your life to benefit your heirs. This way, you can make a gift to the community foundation and replace the value of this gift within your estate with life insurance proceeds.
